COVID-19 Temporary MBS Allied Health (Psychology) Telehealth Services Frequently Asked Questions

Last updated: 20 April 2020

- From 13 March 2020 to 30 September 2020 (inclusive), new temporary MBS telehealth items have been made available to help reduce the risk of community transmission of COVID-19 and provide protection for patients and health care providers.

- A service may only be provided by telehealth where it is safe and clinically appropriate to do so.

- The telehealth services are for non-admitted patients.

- As of 20 April 2020, specialist and allied health service providers are no longer required to bulk bill these new telehealth items.

- Providers are expected to obtain informed financial consent from patients prior to providing the service; providing details regarding their fees, including any out-of-pocket costs.

- Please refer to the ‘Provider Frequently Asked Questions’ on MBS Online for general information on eligibility, telehealth arrangements, referrals, bulk-billing and claiming, and assignment of benefits.

- Please note that this information is accurate as of this date. This is an evolving situation and it is possible that some of this information could change in response to the circumstances. Please continue to check MBS Online (www.mbsonline.gov.au) regularly for any further announcements.

Why are these changes being made?

- The new temporary MBS telehealth items will allow people to access essential Medicare funded health services remotely and reduce their risk of exposure to COVID-19.

- Videoconference services are the preferred approach for substituting a face-to-face consultation. However, in response to the COVID-19 pandemic, providers will also be able to offer audio-only services via telephone if video is not available. There are separate items available for the audio-only services.

Can I use the new temporary MBS telehealth items in place of existing MBS items?

- Yes. The new temporary telehealth MBS items mirror existing face-to-face attendance items available under the MBS.

- Providers should claim the new MBS item which best describes the service that they have rendered. If the requirements of the item have been met, practitioners are able to bill the new MBS items.

- Providers should use their clinical judgement to determine if a service is clinically relevant. A clinically relevant service is one that is generally accepted by the relevant profession as necessary for the appropriate treatment of the patient.
Which new temporary MBS telehealth items can psychologists access?

Psychologists can access items provided for both for Allied Health attendances and Mental Health attendances dependant on patient. Factsheets available for both suites of items at MBS Online. Please see tables below for all relevant items.

Does the patient need a referral to be eligible for psychological therapy or focused psychological strategy services under the new temporary MBS telehealth items?

- All MBS items for psychological therapy and focused psychological strategies attendances by allied health providers require a valid referral. A patient must be referred by:
  1. a medical practitioner, either as part of a GP Mental Health Treatment Plan, or as part of a shared care plan or as part of a psychiatrist assessment and management plan; or
  2. a specialist or consultant physician specialising in the practice of his or her field of psychiatry; or
  3. a specialist or consultant physician specialising in the practice of his or her field of paediatrics.

- However, if the allied health provider has already received a referral that is still valid, there is no need to obtain a specific referral for the purposes of claiming the new temporary MBS telehealth items.

How many services under the new temporary MBS telehealth items can patients receive?

- A patient is eligible for up to 10 psychological therapy or focused psychological strategies services per calendar year. This includes face to face, telehealth or telephone services.
- The new temporary MBS telehealth items are equivalent to their existing MBS items, and are not to be provided as an additional set of items. If forming part of a treatment, care or management plan, a patient is eligible for the same number of services as outlined on their referral and plan.

How do the new temporary MBS telehealth items differ from current Better Access arrangements?

- Unlike existing telehealth items, there are no location restrictions for patients.
- The new temporary MBS telehealth items for psychological therapy and focused psychological strategies are similar in that they provide rebates for up to ten individual mental health therapy sessions in a calendar year to patients with an assessed mental disorder and a valid referral.
- The ten individual services may consist of focused psychological strategies, psychological therapy services (provided by a clinical psychologist), and/or focused psychological strategies provided by an eligible health practitioner.
Am I insured to provide MBS telehealth services?

- You will need to confirm with your professional indemnity insurance provider as to whether you are covered to provide telehealth services. Services must be provided within the professional's scope of practice, and in accordance with all other professional responsibilities.
