

Dissolution of the Medicare Claims Review Panel and associated amendment to MCRP and plastic and reconstructive surgery items

Last updated: 5/11/2018

What are the changes?

From 1 November 2018, the Medicare Claims Review Panel (MCRP) will be dissolved and relevant items will be changed, to assist medical practitioners in understanding the appropriate use of items and to minimise misuse.

In addition, over 30 potentially cosmetic plastic surgery items will be amended to ensure consistency with the MCRP item changes, and to align them with appropriate clinical practice. Medicare does not fund cosmetic services.

Why are the changes being made?

The amendments are consistent with the MBS Review Taskforce's objectives of ensuring a contemporary MBS, with clearly written items retaining the clinical relevance test to which all MBS items are subject. More information about the Taskforce can be found on the MBS Review Taskforce website.

What does this mean for providers?

Medical practitioners will no longer need to seek the MCRP's judgement on the clinical relevance of services they wish to perform under Medicare. This will reduce the administrative burden on providers.

What does this mean for patients?

Patients will hereafter have items processed in the same manner as the rest of the more than 5,700 items in the MBS. This will reduce the time it takes for patients to get rebates for these services.

When will this change be reviewed?

The Department of Health regularly reviews the usage of new and amended MBS items in consultation with the profession.

All MBS items may be subject to compliance processes and activities, including random and targeted audits which may require a provider to submit information about the services claimed.

Significant variation from forecasted expenditure may warrant review and amendment of fees, and incorrect use of MBS items can result in penalties including the health professional being asked to repay monies that have been incorrectly received.

Where can I find more information?

For information on the administrative arrangements for the MCRP, including if you have a current MCRP application, contact the Department of Human Services on 132 150.

Further information on other changes to the MBS can be found at the MBS Online website.
